The First Amendment

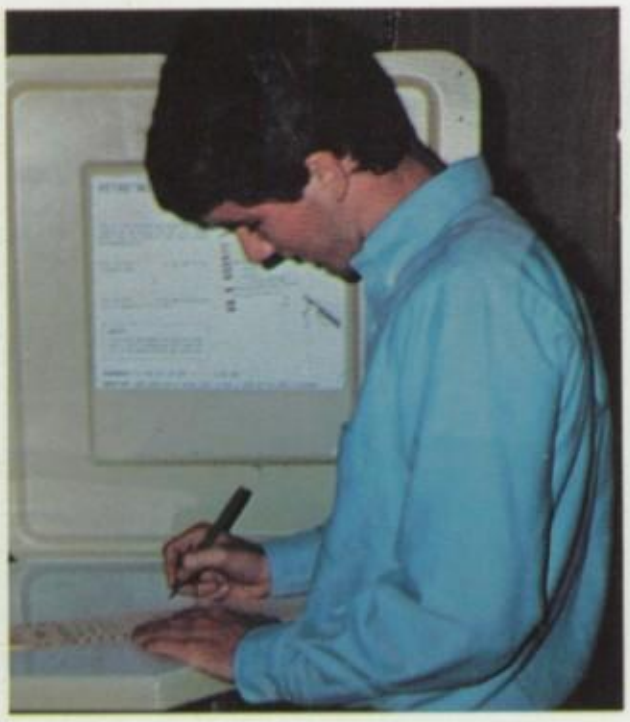
Why The First Amendment? Many people have been wondering what it means and why it was chosen as the name of our yearbook. The staff wanted the name of the yearbook to be meaningful and appropriate for everyone associated with Metro.

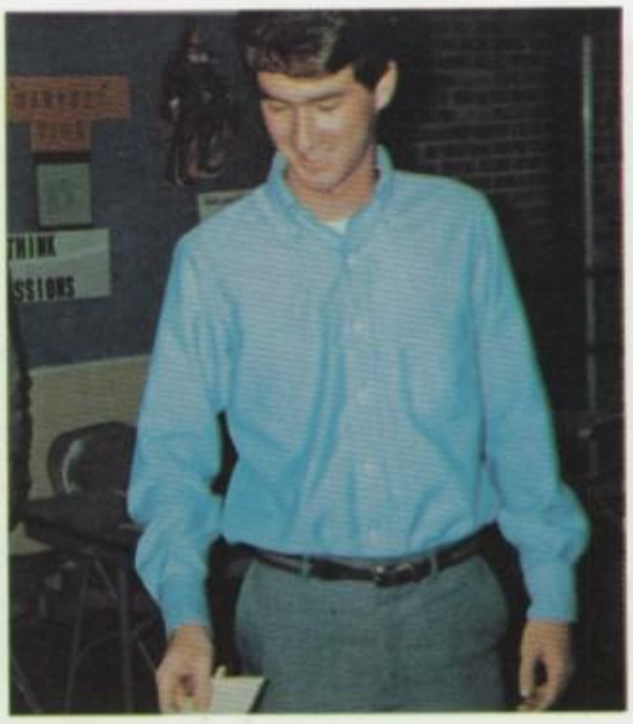
The First Amendment of the Constitution has a major effect on all people, for it guarantees our freedom of religion, speech, press, assembly, and petition. Metro, being a Christian school, is directly affected by this amendment because it gives us the right to worship as we choose without interference from Congress. It also gives us freedom of the press which allows us to print this yearbook and other future yearbooks any way we so desire. The First Amendment of the Constitution is such an important part of the lives of all Americans and we hope our First Amendment successfully captures your most important memories of friendships, learning and growing up as a Metro Christian Academy Patriot!

Pres. Reagan, Bringing America Back!

1984 brought about another chance for President Ronald Reagan to bring America Back stronger, prouder, and better! Reagan won the hearts of the Amer. people in '80 and was able to maintain their admiration and win the '84 vote "hands down." Reagan's strong leadership, Christian morals, great personality and genuine love for his country captured the public's eye and they couldn't get enough. For the first time in years, Americans were beginning to feel the spirit of freedom and opportunity come alive once again! In 1980, Pres. Reagan brought to the attention of all Americans the lack of true spirit and patriotism. But after his first four years as Pres. he had poured the foundation and begun to rebuild the spirit and pride found inside every American.

Of course, not everyone agreed with the plans of the Reagan Administration and the Democrats placed their faith in Walter Mondale to win the '84 vote. For the first time in history a woman ran for the office of Vice Pres. Geraldine Ferraro took a giant step for women in politics and was in the limelight throughout the campaign. After the Democrats announced their candidates, the Republicans began to feel the pressure caused by the choice of a woman for V.P. At first the Republicans were confident but they began to worry about the possible loss of the female vote to Mondale/Ferraro. But when election day finally came, America's choice was clearly Reagan/Bush leaving only the state of Minnesota for Mondale. Americans felt secure with Reagan at the top, and that's exactly where they wanted him to stay. Ronald Reagan is a leader we can easily follow, a Patriot in every sense of the word!





"I Voted Today!"

When the voting began, Metro's 18 yr. olds were anxiously awaiting their chance to cast their ballots for the first time. As Brad McNeese demonstrates, it gave them a sense of responsibility and importance that they never had before. It was important for them to know that they actually played a valuable role in the selection of the President and other government leaders. Even the "OLD pros" like Mr. Pinkerton were excited and proud of their freedom to vote. The 1984 election had the best voter turn out in years and the Patriots were there in full support.

USA for Africa

American music artists joined together and expressed the true patriotic spirit of the U.S.A. by making a record to benefit the hungry in Africa. The song, "We Are the World," was sung by forty-five artists such as: Lionel Richie, Stevie Wonder, Huey Lewis, Diana Ross, and Bruce Springsteen. All proceeds from this record went to benefit the starving people, yet, the artists received no profit whatsoever. The participants in this project showed the World that Americans are concerned with problems beyond their own.

VP Bush and First Lady Visit Tulsa

In 1984 the Reagan/Bush campaign came to Tulsa! V.P. Bush held a rally downtown to help confirm Tulsa's vote. The people, ranging in age from little children to the elderly, all joined together chanting, "Four More Years!" There were "Fritz Buster" posters and Amer. flags waving high while Bush gave his powerful speech urging support of the Reagan administration.

In 1985, Tulsa was put on the busy agenda of our First Lady Nancy Reagan. She brought her anti-drug crusade to Tulsa and visited the Juvenile Detention Center. Mrs. Reagan's staff receives about 250 invitations a week to places such as Tulsa. We should be proud of Mrs. Reagan's visit to our city and the work she's doing throughout the country for the fight against teenage drug abuse.

Jr Miss Chooses Patriotic Theme

9 Metro Girls Participate

Nov. 17, 1984 was an eventful night for 9 MCA students. They were part of the Jr Miss Pageant which consisted of 20 girls in all. The Pageant was held at Jenks High School and the theme was Patriotism.

The 9 contestants from MCA were: Anne Holderness, Michelle Ives, Kathy Morrison, Missy Nalley, Missy Ruddick, Renee Rupp, Alicia Scott, and Jo-Queta Wilson. Each girl had to participate in several categories including; talent, poise & appearance, athletics and academics. This demonstrates an all-around girl which is what Jr Miss looks for. Although none of our girls won the coveted title; two did win individual awards, Kathy Morrison for Academics & Anne Holderness for Poise & Appearance. MCA should be very proud of all of these young ladies for the fine job they did in representing our school in this city-wide competition.

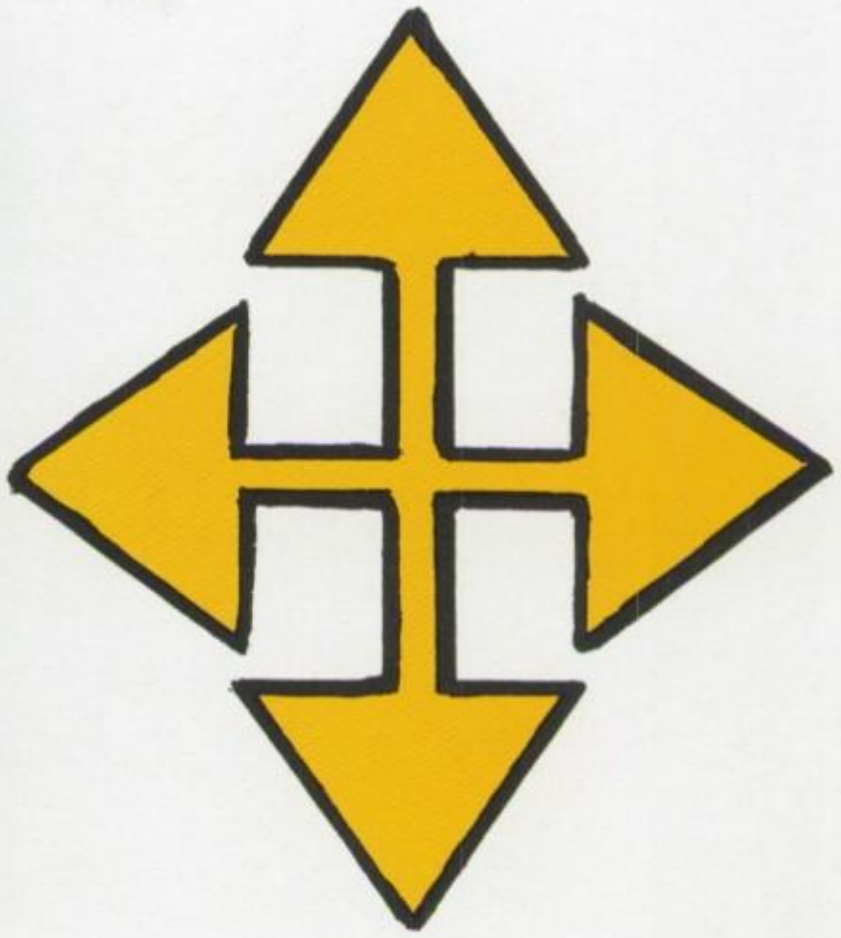
Going For The GOLD

Patriotism reigned at the 1984 Olympics with shouts of "USA, USA!" It was again time to be proud to be an American. Several MCA patrons had the opportunity to see this event live in Los Angeles. But, the rest felt as much a part of it sitting in front of the TV in the living room or den at home.

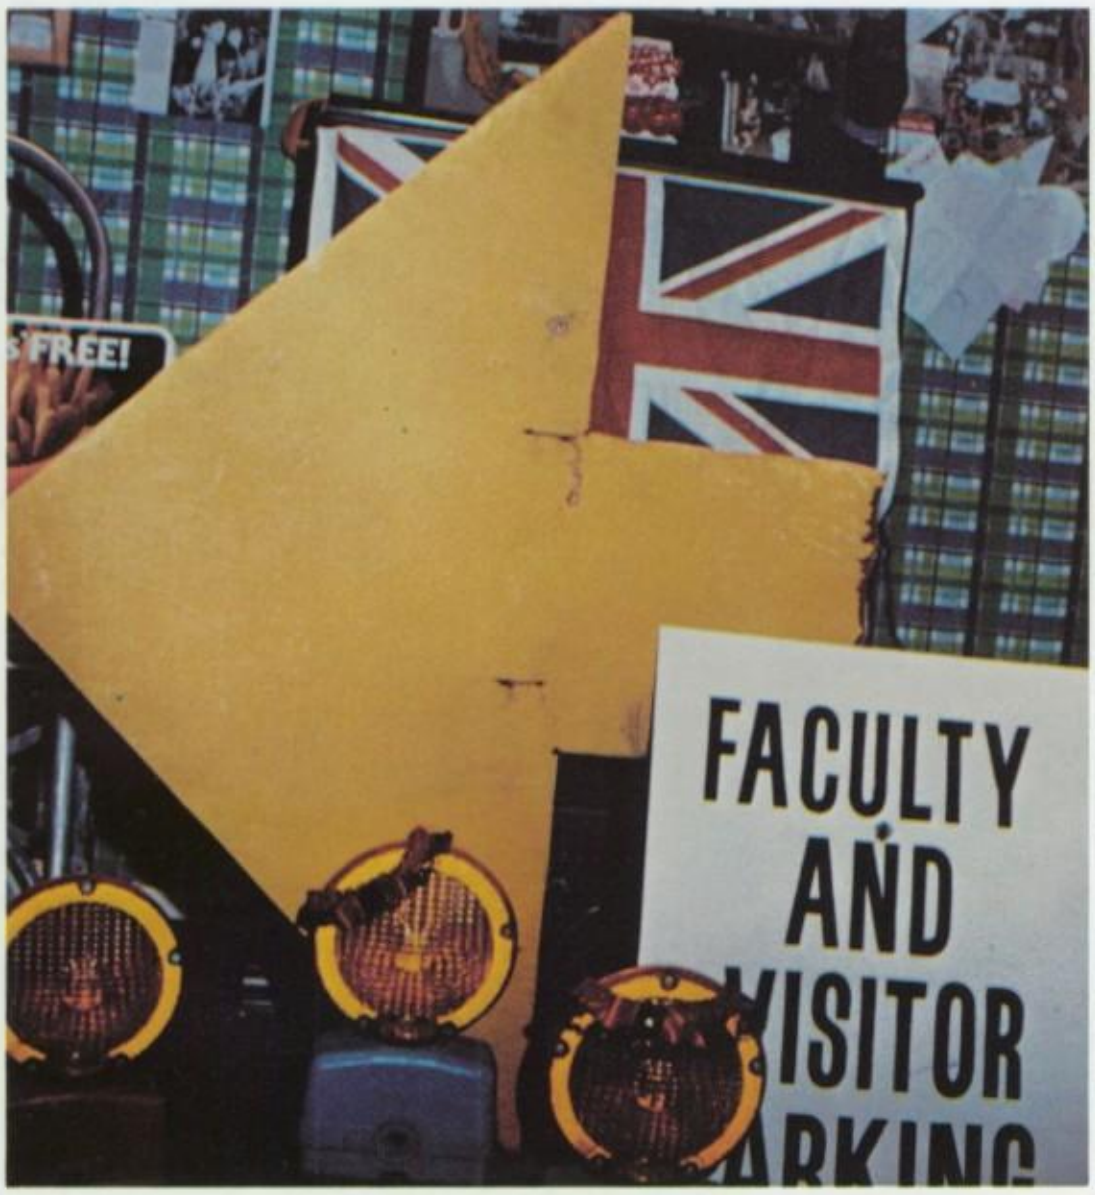
Names such as Mary Lou Retton, Carl Lewis, Greg Louganis, & Bart Conner were as familiar to average Americans as their own family members' names. These are the athletes that brought the theme "going for the gold" to America.

While watching the closing ceremonies, pride welled up within the hearts of Americans everywhere. Flags were waving throughout the stadium. At the same time, people at home knew America had shown the world that we do love America. And, they were happy to join the chant, "USA, USA!"

The Case of:
The Mysterious Patriot Arrow



Four unsuspecting students: Debbie Hammond, Robin Terrill, Chris Richards, and Melissa McCain.



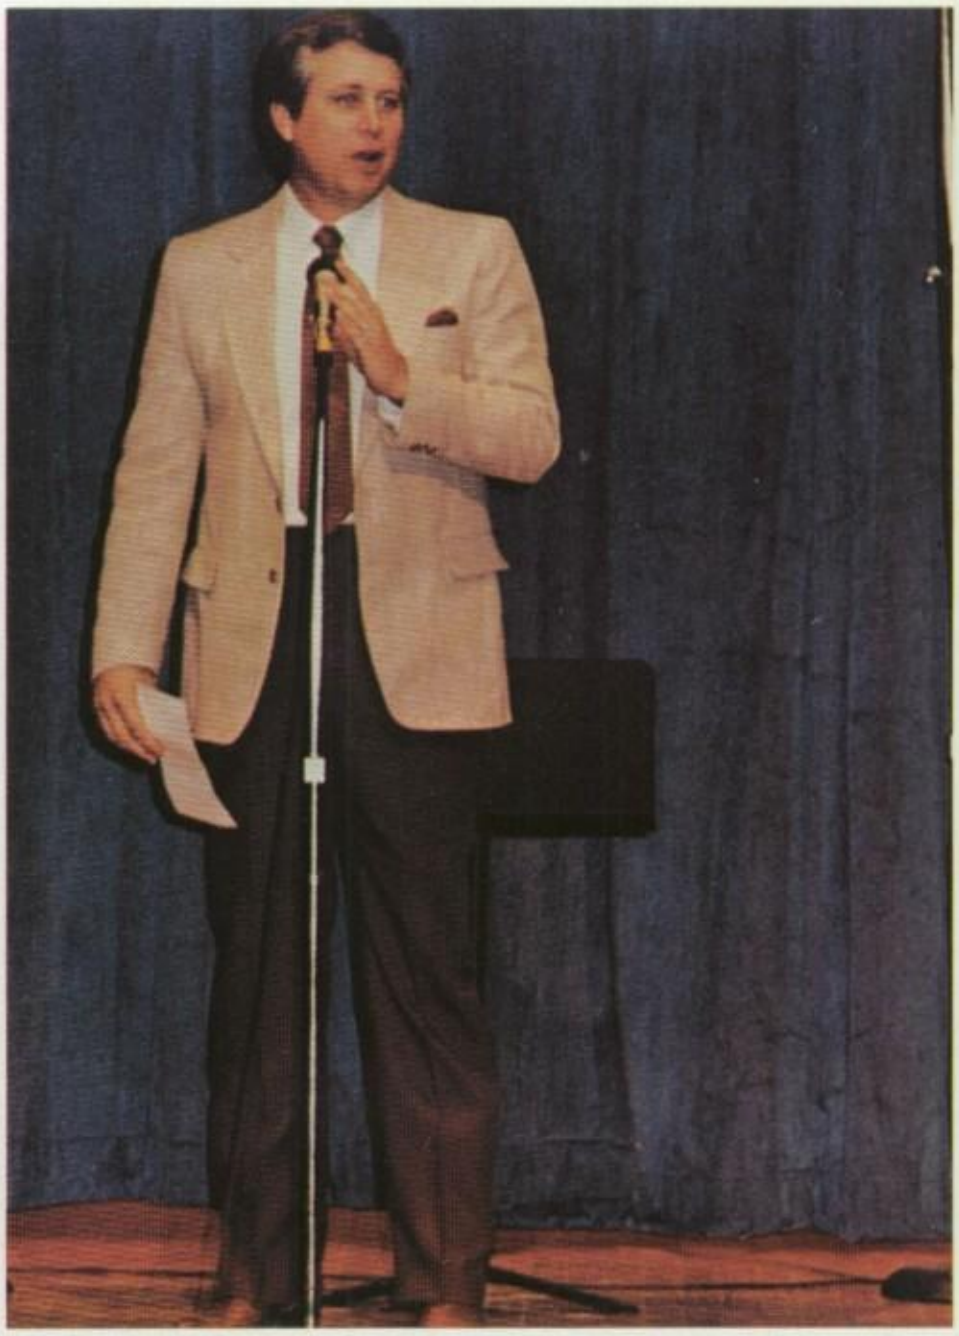
Working on its disguise, the Arrow has gone undercover.

When Mr. Bruno arrived at Metro, an amazing thing occurred . . . so did the arrow. The coincidence is difficult to discount. But, the aftermath, sometimes called "the revenge of the arrow," was evident. The decision, "should I follow the arrow, or take a chance on the shortcut" was a trying one. Many people were observed trying "the shortcut."

Then, things got worse. It began to travel. First, it was a small thing like moving the direction it pointed. A simple little joke. But, more followed. It traveled to the top of the school. Could this creature fly? After that there was no turning back; it began taking trips. It could be spotted anywhere at any time. It even visited some of the students at home. For further information see Kathy Morrison or Kevin VanHorn.

But now what? The Arrow has disappeared. The details are sketchy. Just keep a lookout for the Mysterious Patriot Arrow. Who knows where it will turn up next???

Mr. Jack Ojala
Secondary Principal



Upper Left: Mr. Ojala accepts the challenge to participate in the Walk A Thon.
Upper Right: Giving the announcements in chapel. "How many weeks until Spring Break?"
Lower Right: At his usual place of business, we find Mr. Ojala hard at work.

"Our Favorite Principal" Mr. Jack Ojala has several attributes that qualify him as a man we look up to. First, he is a man of honor. At times, being Principal requires that one do some unpleasant and unpopular things. But, because of his honor and devotion to this school, he has faithfully completed those duties.

Next, he is a man of humor. He enjoys kidding around with students and faculty alike. And, he can take it as well as dish it out. He is known for his witty sense of humor.

Finally, he is a man of love. He enjoys being with the students of Metro. And, his commitment to them puts him in a very special category. He loves with Christ's love and shares this with all he meets.

Because of these ideals, the yearbook staff dedicates this book to Mr. Jack Ojala.

The Class of 1985 led a very exciting life this past year. It seemed as if there was always something the Seniors were striving for. They led the way in many of the school activities such as: the canned food drive, hall decorating contest, door decorating contest, book drive and sponsoring Encore '85.

As if that were not enough, they even went on trips together. The Senior Class went on a ski trip to Crested Butte, Colorado; on a cruise during Spring Break and; to Wet 'n Wild in Dallas at the end of the year.

The Class of '85 has been a vital part in the success of MCA's second year. We wish the graduating classes to come much success. We hope that you will continue to strive for the betterment of Metro Christian Academy, as we have done. Continue to make Metro the home of the Few, the Proud, the Committed, the Patriots.

When summer ended and September rolled around the Class of '86 were finally upperclassmen. They kicked the year off with a street dance at Melissa McCain's house. A candle-lined cul-de-sac set the scene for food and fun.

Attendants Kim Ogren and Suzy Wood, escorted by statesmen Paul Hayes and Eddie Snow, were chosen to represent the Junior class in the MCA homecoming court.

An important part of the Juniors' year was the task of raising money for the Junior-Senior banquet. Sponsored by Mrs. Alba, they stayed busy with a garage sale and begging people to buy calendars. The most successful fund raiser was the spirit chain competition, in which all the classes displayed the long length of their Patriot spirit. Their year was highlighted by the long awaited day of getting their class rings, showing that they were truly JUNIOR PATRIOTS!

The Sophomores, being the largest class, began this school year with a bang by winning the spirit stick at the first pep rally, and continued to display their spirit by winning the chain link competition at homecoming. They have also shown that they have a heart by designing their class of '87 sweatshirts, as well as having a get acquainted party. The Sophomores again showed their ability to pull together by tying with the Senior class for the book drive. Their fund raisers consisted of the dating survey and the bake sale at Metrofest. They ended the year with a charity egg hunt to The Little Lighthouse, and a class trip to Six Flags.

What's a 7 letter word for a Metro student that begins with P . . .

Freshmen know playing is hard work. Teamwork was shown in school service projects such as the book drive and in class activities such as the pizza booth at Metrofest. Freshmen have displayed the spirit of participation necessary to guarantee a successful beginning in High School. Freshmen are the future of Metro and with a concerted effort, they can assure a bright future for MCA.

Eighth graders. What does that bring to your mind? Untameable youngsters whose only purpose on earth is tormenting their teachers? Maybe at other schools, but at Metro, that is not the case. Of course, they do giggle quite a bit and 'bug' the older students, but that's normal.

Our eighth grade Patriots are a breed apart from other Junior High classes their age. They take pride in our school and are a small but very important part in making it in the home of "The Few, the Proud, and the Committed."

The eighth graders started the year in the right direction by electing Dacon Lister, Jeff Ogren, Suzanne Zollinger, and Carri Grubbs as their class officers. These responsible young people and other dedicated members of the eighth grade class helped in the sales of Christmas Candy Canes, Valentine Flowers, and Easter Jellybean Note-Grams.

They all finished their year as being the 'top' of the Junior High quite successfully. Next year will be different. As Freshmen, they will begin on the bottom rung of the High School ladder. But, with their enthusiasm, eventually, they will climb to the top!

The sixth grade class had quite an exciting year. The class representatives were Allison Carona, President; Carrie Ojala, Vice-President; Julie Jones, Treasurer; and Deana Whinery, Secretary. Also, five class members served as school safety patrols. They were Allison Carona, Melissa Cristello, Julie Jones, John McGuire, and Lea Anne Mitten. The class held a poll on the presidential elections at Open House, had Operation Aware sessions, and took field trips to Osteopathic Hospital, Philbrook Art Center, and Shadow Mountain Institute. The sixth graders also participated in the elementary spelling bee in which Craig Hackney took first place. Travis Robertson, Darin Smith, and Jason Weinheimer played flag football on the elementary team.

This year has been filled with both fun and excitement for the fifth grade class. Mr. King from the newspaper spoke to the fifth grade. He informed the class about the newspaper in general, and shared guidelines about printing. This information was applied to a Newspaper and Education unit, which focused on academic subjects through the use of the newspaper.

Mrs. Lukens' class toured KCFO, and caroled at the Univ. Village. Mrs. Raymer's class toured St. John's for a Science field trip. Both classes were in an Introduction to Operation Awareness Program. They sponsored two children through the Salvation Army. At Christmas, they gave presents to these children and saw the "Greatest Christmas Pageant Ever."

Our third graders have had a busy school year complete with field trips and plenty of "refreshment time." In October, they had a picnic and visited the pumpkin patch. They went to a nursing home in December and made gifts and sang Christmas carols.

There were also several trips to the Performing Arts Center followed by stops at Mazzio's, Braum's, and MacDonald's. For the President's birthday, Miss Mulvaney's class sent a card and received a personal reply with pictures of him.

The second graders have kept themselves busy with special activities each month. A trip to the vet and lunch at McDonald's proved exciting to some while others enjoyed visiting the Pumpkin Patch and getting to take a pumpkin home. They celebrated Thanksgiving with a dinner made by their mothers and gave thanks to God. At Christmas they spread cheer by going to a nursing home to sing carols and recite Bible verses. One of the students invited her father, who is a dentist, to come and discuss how important it is to take proper care of your teeth. On a field trip to Gilcrease, the second graders learned about Indians and their Oklahoman heritage. The children showed love for their teachers by bringing special gifts on Teacher Appreciation Day. Almost the whole class participated in the Elementary Walk-a-thon to raise money for books.

Their enthusiasm and growing Patriot spirit is evidence that they are really moving into action.

MCA's 1st graders are very busy kids! At Thanksgiving they dressed up as Pilgrims and Indians and made their own costumes and dinner. They put on a play called, "The Trials of Tillie Tooth" and a dentist and his hygenist came, teaching them about dental health. They were toys in the Christmas program and they'll always remember their gerbil, Robbie.

The Kindergarten class opened the year in Sept. with a room warming party for their teacher Miss Starkey. October brought a trip to the pumpkin patch in Bixby and a hayride for the kids. At Christmas time they had fun making graham cracker cookie houses and in March they took a trip to the Performing Art Center to see Pepper the Clown.

Faculty and Administration

Metro is proud of its teachers! Without the consistent devotion, personal interest, and self-sacrifice they show, Metro would lose a quality rarely found in most school systems. Nineteen of our teachers have masters degrees and thirty-five hold their bachelors in their respective fields. Combined, they have taught a total of 484 years and average 8.5 years per teacher. It is because of such special people that Metro has excelled not only academically but also as a builder of the whole person.

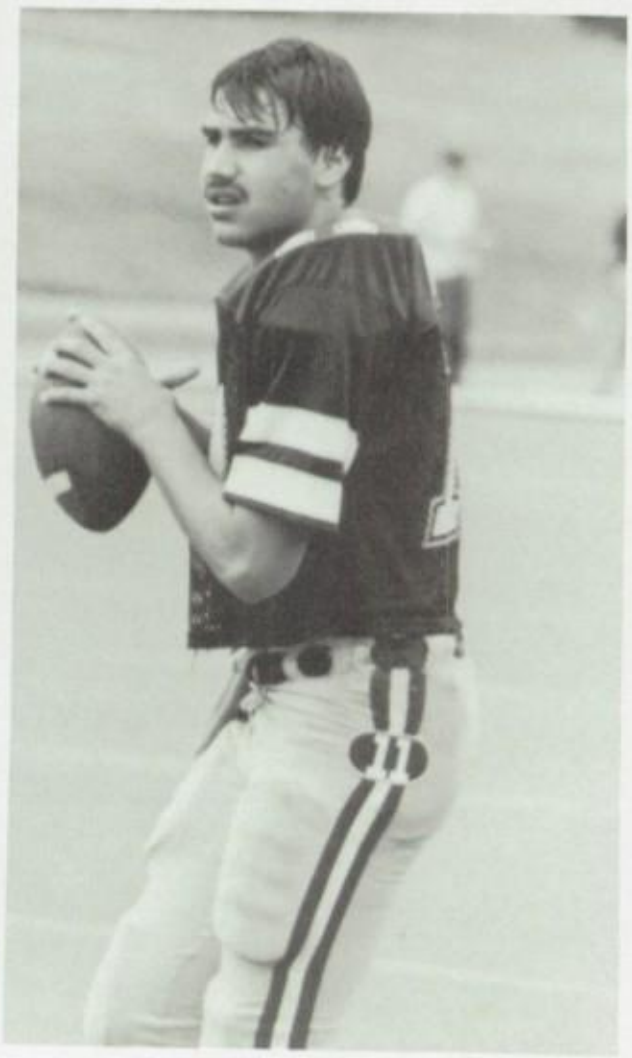
It became very obvious to everyone this year that Metro had one of the best teams in Oklahoma. First of all they were a team who prayed and looked to God for inner and physical strength. They had an outstanding coaching staff, led by Randy Goodsell. What made them winners was their ability to play together as a team and get along. "I have never been associated with a closer group of guys," replied John Frohrip. "The group took winning seriously and losing hard. We did whatever it took to win."

"We were friends and would do anything for each other," Rod Ferguson said. "The team laughed together and cried together."

Lindy Quinten commented, "We believed in ourselves and each other." David Eidson stated, "The record didn't show what kind of team we were." It was disappointing for the seniors that they did not go undefeated. Through football these guys have developed lasting friendships, and learned about success, achievement, and life.

OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT

1984 All-Metro Second Team: Scott Goodsell, Carter Marsh.
Honorable Mention: Stephon Chappell, Jon Denton, Rod Ferguson, John Frohrip, Jeff Greene, John Murchison, and Lindy Quinten.



September 8, 1984

DALLAS FIRST BAPTIST VS. METRO

The first game of the season was on a rainy Saturday afternoon at Tulsa County Stadium. Stephon Chappell scored the first points with a 49-yard touchdown run. Also in the first quarter John Frohrip caught a touchdown pass from Jeff Greene after a 70-yard march. John Main returned a fumble by First Baptist 53 yards in the second quarter. In the fourth quarter Carter Marsh kicked a 57-yard field goal that tied the state mark in the National High School Sports Record Book.

September 14, 1984

PRYOR VS. METRO

No one knew what to expect of this second game in the season since our starting quarterback, Jeff Greene, was injured and unable to play. Kendall Jobe, a sophomore, stepped in to lead the Patriots to victory with the support of a strong and unified team. Neither team was able to score in the first half. After the second half kick-off Metro was forced to punt. Pryor fumbled the punt and it was recovered by Mike Wise. Stephon Chappell scored a touchdown four plays later. Pryor scored in the fourth quarter, but Carter Marsh blocked the extra point kick allowing the Patriots to win their second game.

September 21, 1984

CHELSEA VS. METRO

Chelsea was the only team to score in the first half, but the Patriots returned after half time with their winning attitude to give the Patriots their third victory. Touchdown runs by Stephon Chappell, Kendall Jobe (still filling in for Greene), and Rod Ferguson, and two extra point kicks by Carter Marsh made the record 3-0.

Stephon Chappell puts the moves on Pryor scoring the only Metro touchdown of the game.

CATOOSA VS. METRO

Jeff Greene returned after two weeks to continue the victories of the Patriots. At halftime the score was Catoosa 20 and Metro 3. Again the Patriots came back after half time ready to win. By the fourth quarter the deficit was reduced to 20-17. With one minute to play and facing a third and 18, Jeff Greene completed a pass to David Eidson on the one-yard line. Jeff Greene scored on the next play finishing off the second half assault.

October 5, 1984

BLACKWELL VS. METRO

Only one team could walk away from this game victorious. Both had records of 4-0. The excitement was boosted even more because it was Blackwell's homecoming. They scored the first points, but Stephon Chappell followed shortly after with a 60-yard touchdown run. Metro dominated the second quarter and scored 14 points. The fourth quarter was thrilling with a total of 25 points scored, but Metro came home with the perfect record of 5-0! This victory put Metro in the Class 3A rankings as 10th for the first time in 1984.

October 12, 1984

HOMINY VS. METRO

The Patriots were determined to avenge the loss of 1983, and did so with little effort. It was Hominy's homecoming just as it had been ours the year before. Our guys were so ready to get revenge that we tied for Hominy's worst defeat. Stephon Chappell ran 64 yards and tied our high school record for the longest run. John Frohrip caught 5 passes that night and tied our record for most receptions. Jeff Green set the school record for 6 consecutive completed passes and a perfect game. Stephon Chappell, Rod Ferguson, John Frohrip, Jeff Greene, Kendall Jobe, David Noland, and Carter Marsh accumulated the points to make Metro 8th ranked in Class 3A, and moved the record to 6-0.

October 19, 1984

EUFAULA VS. METRO

The Patriots entered this game with the desire to win, but just were not quite as mentally and physically prepared as usual. Rod Ferguson scored the only touchdown in the first quarter, 5 plays after Eufaula's first score. It was a 31-yard run followed by Jeff Greene running in the conversion. There was no more scoring until Eufula was finally able to score again in the third quarter. It looked as if the Patriots would be able to come from behind and win when Jeff Greene found David Eidson open at the end zone. The pass was complete but was called back because of offensive interference. The first loss hit hard and was a great disappointment to many seniors expecting an undefeated season as the record became 5-1.

October 26, 1984

BEGGS VS. METRO

The Patriots returned to Skelly Stadium with greater preparation and stamina than ever before; determined not to have a repeat of the previous week. It was also Homecoming and spirits were high in spite of the heavy rains during the day. Metro dominated the entire game with touchdown runs by Stephon Chappell (53 and 14 yards), Jeff Greene (1 and 10 yards), and the last was a 2-yard run by Rod Ferguson. Randy Goodsell was overheard saying he would have liked to have seen some of those touchdowns the week before. Winning the game made Homecoming everything it should be. It was the perfect ending to a perfect week.

November 3, 1984

DALLAS CHRISTIAN VS. METRO

The football team, the cheerleaders, the fans, and the band boarded buses Saturday morning to head for the "Big D" with high hopes of a final victory for the seniors. It was cold, rainy and muddy when they arrived at the football field, however, their spirits were not dampened. Rod Ferguson was the leading rusher for the game with 89 yards. It was a close, hard fought battle, but in the fourth quarter the score was 22-15 and it looked as if we would win the last game the varsity would play. Then after Dallas had 5 downs on the three-yard line, the clock was not running, and we were given 12 penalties in the last 2½ minutes. Dallas scored and made the conversion giving a final score of 23-22 as the clock ticked off the last two minutes.

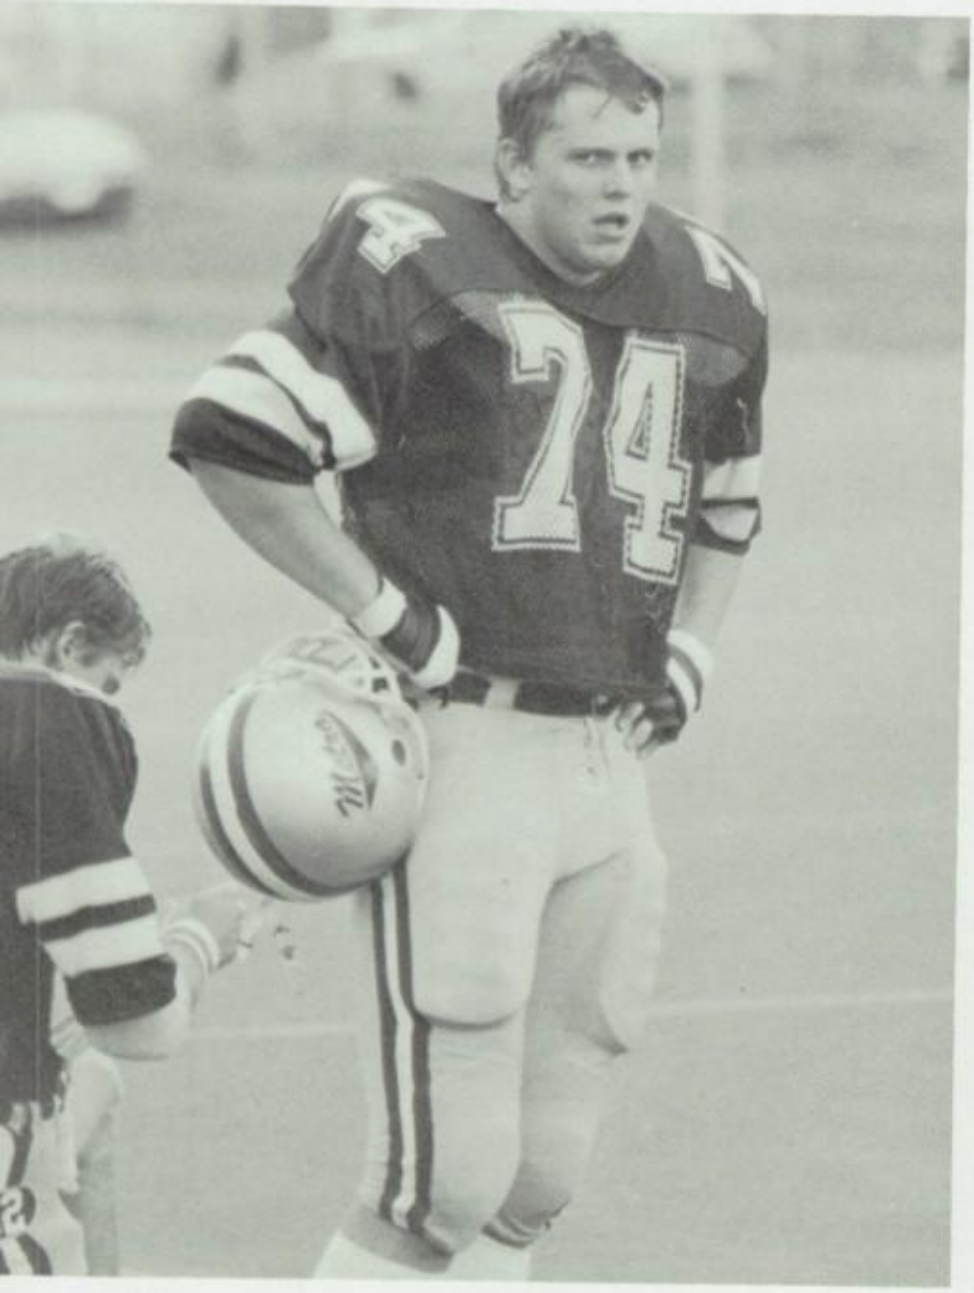
November 9, 1984

FAIRLAND VS. METRO

This was the final varsity home game. However, the seniors did not play, but they did try their hand at coaching. It was the last appearance of a group who helped build a 17-3 record in Metro's first two seasons of football. The junior varsity rushed for 229 yards. It was an indication of the season to come by the performance of many underclassmen.



Could this be at the Dallas Christian game?!?

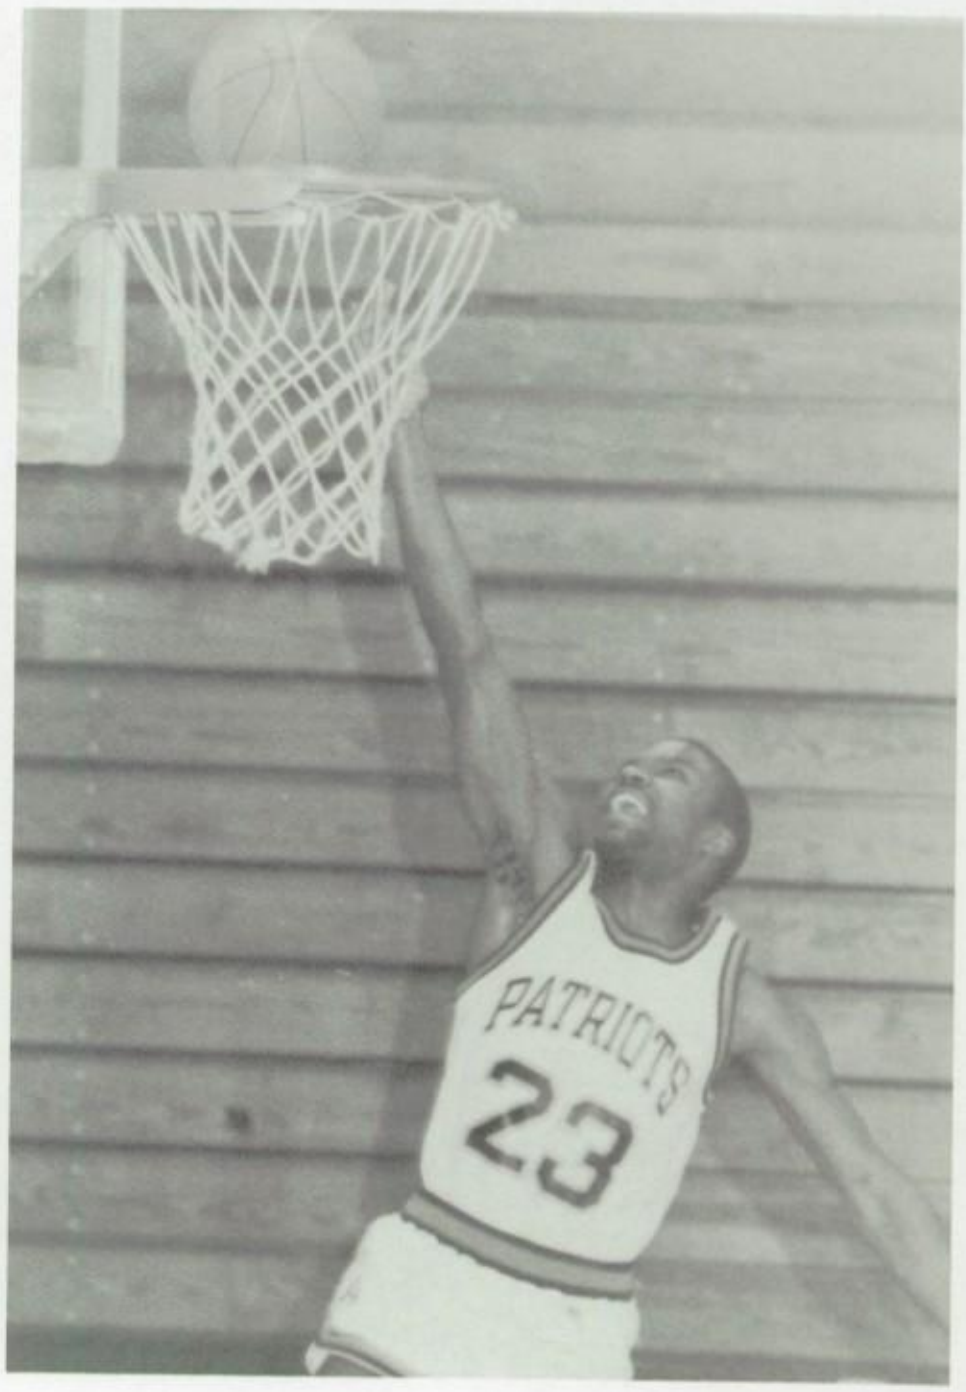
SEASON: 24-6

Eddie makes his point.

Jeff Greene puts it up for two.



The varsity basketball team, coached by Terry West and assisted by Rick Johnson, did very well this year with a record of 24-6. They had one of the hardest schedules in the state and averaged about three games per week. They played many 5A teams and beat several teams ranked in the top 10. The team put in many hours of hard work, usually 3½ hours each practice. The leaders in assisting scores were Ronnie Bell, Reggie Elam and Scott Goodwin. They took first place in the Glenpool Blue-Gray Classic, and the Metro Classic. Coach West felt that had the team been given the opportunity to be part of the Oklahoma Association they would have won State 2A. "They were a competitive group and liked to work hard, getting better with each day. With this attitude of playing the future years of Metro look promising," commented coach Johnson.

Setting Goals and Reaching Goals

Practice, practice, practice. Every day at 2:00 the girls' basketball team would consistently put forth all of their efforts to further the ability of their team. Under the instruction of Coach Bruno and Coach Greenbank, the Varsity girls' basketball would come alive to work their hardest at each game. The girls' Varsity has had a building year under the perseverance and pressure of those involved.

The Junior high girls fielded a team which enjoyed success in area tournaments. They represented Metro through their diligent efforts with a number of prestigious trophies. The junior high girls pulled together and showed their talent for playing superior basketball.

Elementary has a Field Day

Elementary field day was an exciting and fun-filled day for all grade school participants. Running, jumping, and generally having a great time was the day's requirement. Each student showed his athletic prowess in different events, and ribbons were given for both individual and group events.

Metro's swimmers began their season in November with sixteen active members. In every meet they attended, they won their individual events and every relay. Paul Winters was the outstanding swimmer on the team in both freestyle and in back stroke. He, and the other ones who swam, were hard workers, dedicated and gave one hundred and ten percent at the meets. More participation is expected for next year so keep your eye out for the MCA Swim Team!

Patriot Golf

Metro's golfers began their season in March. They had eleven tournaments winning four of them. The team finished fifth in the Miami Tourn. and eleventh in the Cushing Tourn. Also at Cushing, Richard Winters finished seventh out of one hundred and twenty players. Rich was the Most Valuable Player and was very consistent throughout the season. The MCA golf team is sorry to see Rich graduate but they have great expectations for the years ahead because of the growth and maturity of the younger players.

Various coaches at Glenpool tourny said, "Metro's team was the most improved team there." The wrestlers got 2nd place in the tourny. and brought home Metro's first wrestling trophy. On the Ball!

Baseball season at Metro began in March with the first of thirty-five games. By the end of the season, the team had racked up twenty wins and fifteen losses. The Most Valuable Players this year were two seniors, Brad Beck and Jim Hubbard. Jim was ranked 17th in Okla. in all-time strike outs in a single season. Tod Barnhart, another senior, played second base and was a big asset to the team. The team overall was young and inexperienced and was forced to play their younger members. But because of all the playing time these under classmen received, the outlook for Metro's future teams is looking bright. The coaches said the Players had great attitudes and were a group of sharp young men.

Metro's tennis team made a great showing on the courts this year. Brad McNeese held the No. 1 position for the boys with a record of 6-2. Julie Davis was the No. 1 player for the girl's team whose record was 2-4. The team traveled to Claremore and Okmulgee and beat our rivals, Victory Christian. Coach Johnson enjoyed working with the team and appreciated their hard work. Our tennis team at Metro has so much talent and potential and Metro's future teams will be something to watch!

Slow Start Big finish

This was the first full year of track for Metro, and next year we are looking forward to a full scale program. The team only competed in three meets this year, as the program is still in its early building stages. The top point scorer for the boys was Matt McBroom. Julie Parker and Joy Parker were the top scorers for the girls. At the Tulsa Christian Academy Cross Country Championship Joy Parker placed first, Julie Parker placed second, and DeVon Rayon placed third. Kari Grant placed third in the Junior High Division. The team has displayed great progress and should have a successful season next year.

Varsity prepares to show their style.

Anne Holderness, Kathy Morrison, and Juli Wynn stand proud for the Patriots.

The Varsity Cheerleaders decided in late January to compete in the State Cheers Competition at Broken Arrow on March 2nd. They worked hard to learn a two minute routine, but in early February one of the squad members was hospitalized. The routine was then revised and learned two more times as two more girls became injured. The squad of twelve at camp was now a squad of eight. They had one week to perfect their last cheer changes and a big decision to make — whether or not to go for it and compete with 8. They voted to go and competed with an almost flawless routine. They received 2nd place, 4 points behind the larger squad. Through this they learned that true success is getting up just one more time than you fall.

Awesome Ability

Varsity began preparing to go to Waxahachie, Texas for summer camp in May because they were committed to doing their best. While at camp they earned superior ribbons each night of competition and made it to the finals. They took 1st place which allowed them to attain their goal — The Award of Excellence. Also at camp 5 girls out of 400 were chosen to compete for the title of NCA All-American Cheerleader. Jeni Hartman and Mindy McCurdy were 2 of the finalists. Metro's presence was definitely recognized at camp. Everyone was able to see the unity of the squad and their dedication to excellence. They returned from camp with the desire to continue working hard and reaching their goals. During the school year they cheered for Varsity football and basketball, (as well as wrestling and some girls' basketball). They planned the pep assemblies and ran the concession stand. They truly proved to be committed.

The Junior Varsity squad began practicing in early June for camp — ready to continue in their standard of excellence. They received superior ribbons every night and were chosen for the finals. However, this year at camp there was only 1 division; therefore, they would compete with other varsities, including their own. They did an excellent job and took runner-up. They continued to work hard throughout the year cheering for football, J.V. boys and girls varsity basketball. They ended the year together by selling stadium cushions at Metrofest.

National Honor Society played a significant role in the surrounding community. They offerred assistance through school service activities, community services and a Metrofest booth. In addition to giving aide to the community, they helped out here at home by showing a movie after a basketball game; promoting teacher appreciation week, including a breakfast; and at Christmas sponsoring the "Toys for Tots" program and the canned food drive.

The prerequisites to be a member are a 3.5 grade point and approval by students and staff.

Student Council

Student Council didn't stop functioning at the end of last school year. The officers and some representatives attended BASIC Workship during the summer. Several attended Nationals in Rhode Island. The week before school began in August the officers spent each day planning out activities for the year, designing the all school t-shirt, and decorating the school in the theme they had chosen, "The Year of the Patriot." when school started, preparation for State Convention also began. They were running for State Secretary and planned a full scale campaign with the help of Judy Hull. November 10, 11, and 12 they went to Stillwater and won their office. In December Valerie Eaves was selected to seve as State Secretary. Throughout the year they directed the Class of the Year competition, and did the all school candy bar fundraiser. They also co-sponsored the canned food drive with NHS, and headed up the book drive in February. At Metrofest they had Greek's Hamburgers with all the fixings. In October and April they attended the District VII workshops. Also in April the officers and committee chairmen went to the Rope's Course to develop trust and unity. "It was the most challenging and beneficial experience that I have had," said Jennifer Delaughter. They finished off the school year with having Junior Olympics and an all school slide show at the awards assembly.

Making the Memories

A group of nine Metro students spend countless hours in the production of a very special memory book for the student body. The combined efforts of these people do their best to represent the past school year's meaningful events. Faculty, staff, administration and students are found consistently throughout this book.

Through the making of this book, each staff member is assigned certain responsibilities that are expected to be carried out independently and timely to meet deadlines. To sufficiently produce this special book it is mandatory that each member fill his position with all seriousness and willfull dedication. Being a member of the staff requires many, many hours outside school. It requires much work; in this process members gain respect for one another and establish lasting friendships.

PATRIOTS ON THE MOVE

The Metro Marching Band offers an irreplaceable learning experience — not only in the area of sharpening their musical ability but also in demanding an enormous amount of responsibility as well as dedication. The approximately forty member band spends an estimated three hundred hours in the writing of the show, rehearsals, and actual performance. The many hours of perseverance paid off when the band took second place of Class A schools at the Catoosa contest and placed eighth in the Oklahoma Band Masters Association East Regional Contest held at Union High School. They also attended the District Contest at Skitook and the Sand Springs Band Festival.

DEDICATION

Dedication, the backbone of Colorguard. The work required of each girl is astounding. The fifteen members of Colorguard spend approximately 300 hours in rehearsal and performances throughout the football season. Winterguard spend roughly 400 hours in competition and rehearsal.

The responsibility of the Colorguard during outdoor season is a visual interpretation of whatever music is chosen. Of all guards in Metro's class there are only two undefeated by MCA. In their first year of competition they ranked fourth. For each performance each girl must have a working knowledge to each beat of the music. There is little room for error.

The Color and Winter Guards offer a unique range of competition. The levels range from local, State and Regional to World Wide and you can take it as far as you would like.

Thespians . . .

The Thespians have made this year lively and memorable with their superior talent. They performed "Sorry, Wrong Number", "Were You There?", an air band concert, and participated in the all-school production of "Oklahoma". Also, they performed a Night of One-Acts which consisted of "Princess", "The Valiant", "Voices from the High School", and "Final Dress Rehearsal". They performed "Voices from the High School" at the State Thespian Convention and were then asked to perform the one-act play at the International Thespians Convention. Thespians won first place in Regionals for their one-acts this year and Gigi Welling made All-State Cast. The officers of MCA's Thespian Club (President, Melanie Secrist; Vice-President, Tracy Sams; Secretary, Susan Chee; Treasurer, Brent Isaacs; Chaplain, Paul Hayes; Historian, Alicia Scott) organized a Fine Arts Banquet at which the following awards were presented: Best Actor, Paul Hayes; Best Actress, Gigi Welling; Best Actor in a Musical, John Frohrip; Best Actress in a Musical, Anne Holderness; Best Supporting Actor, Jose Alberu, Best Supporting Actress, Julie Johnson; Best Supporting Actor in a Musical, Randy Findley; Best Supporting Actress in a Musical, Tracy Sams; Most Promising, Julie Johnson; Biggest Blooper, Tracy Sams; Most Outstanding Thespian, Alicia Scott; Most Outstanding Achievement Charm by the Senior girl Thespians, Gigi Welling.

Applied Economics

Applied Economics is a Junior Achievement organization that offers its participants an excellent opportunity to become involved in the business world. Throughout the semester the class forms a company, produces and markets a product, and the financial advisor liquidates the company. Consultants from a business firm come to the class on a weekly basis to advise the Board of Directors of the company and to help in any way possible. In addition to establishing and running a company, the Applied Economics class participates in Computer Management with which the school takes part in a city-wide contest.

Junior Academy of Science

With a total of twenty-two members, the first year of Metro's Junior Academy of Science has proven to be very successful. They became a close-knit group through their numerous activities. These included a repelling trip, a Christmas party and Scavenger hunt, visiting the Omni-Plex in Oklahoma City, and floating down the Buffalo River in Missouri. As with all their activities, JAS had a good turnout at their Science Fair Banquet for the members of the club and their parents. Officers of the 1984-85 Junior Academy of Science were Michelle Matheny, President; Andy Townsend, Vice-President; Tammy VanAken, Secretary; Sharyn Gregory, Treasurer; Lori Rose, Chaplain.

Keeping the Spirit Movin'

1984-85 SPAM members.

SPAM otherwise known as Student Pep at Metro was a club formed for the purpose of promoting school spirit among students, faculty, parents and fans. Several members of SPAM not only promoted Metro and school spirit, but also offered the student body's moral support to the athletes through cupcakes, cookies, popcorn, dynamite cans, socks filled with candy and decorating bedrooms and lockers.

SPAM played a vital role in each football, basketball and baseball game as well as wrestling matches through helping the cheerleaders to maintain the fans' enthusiasm.

Atheletes Have a Special Oneness

Fellowship of Christian Athletes is an organization that offers Metro's athletically inclined an opportunity to join together for a time of fun and Bible study. FCA meets weekly either at one of the members' homes or with another school's FCA. Coach Ed Stephenson, the FCA sponsor, has been able to bring in interesting and exciting speakers such as Gene Bennet of the San Francisco 49ers along with TU football players and coaches. FCA was active in a community outreach ministry, a nursing home ministry, and in promoting yearly summer camps and huddle groups. Also, FCA put on a Cookout for all athletes at Metro in May.

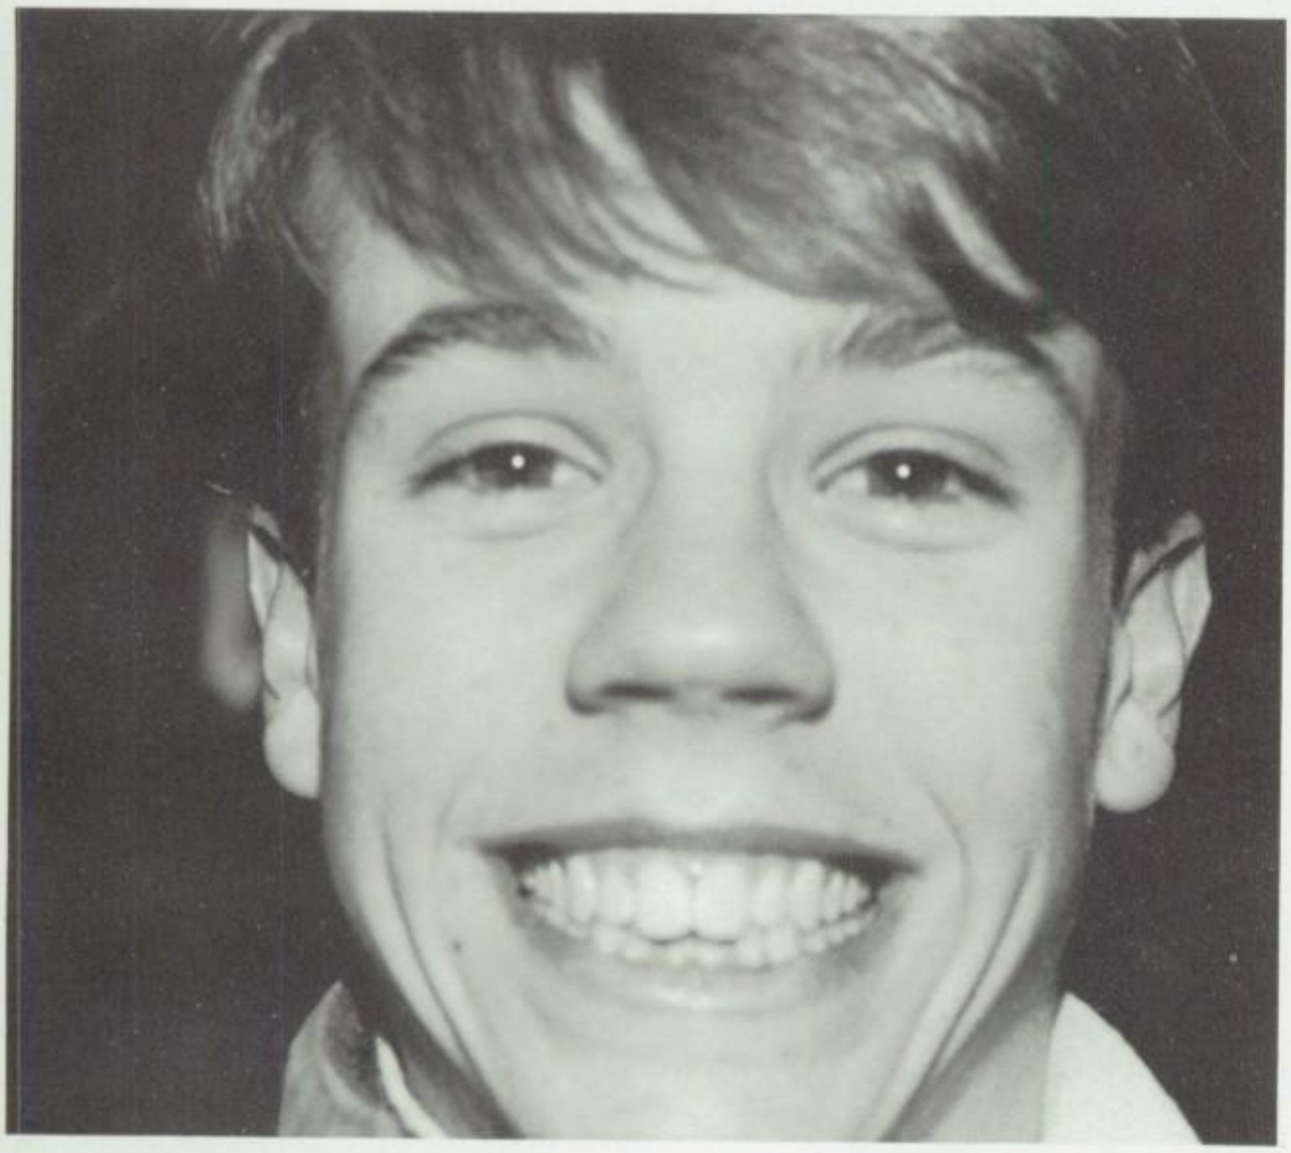
Fellowship = Young Life



Young Life brings out the best in Burt.

Metro's Young Life Organization proved to be an active group. From meetings every Monday, a spring break ski trip, to retreats and devotional times, this group of students insured themselves a good time. Because this organization included all High School classes, everyone benefited, making it one of Metro's most integral organizations. By working together, members planned a summer trip to Florida, a large project that took the efforts of all. Young Life will surely be a promising club next year.

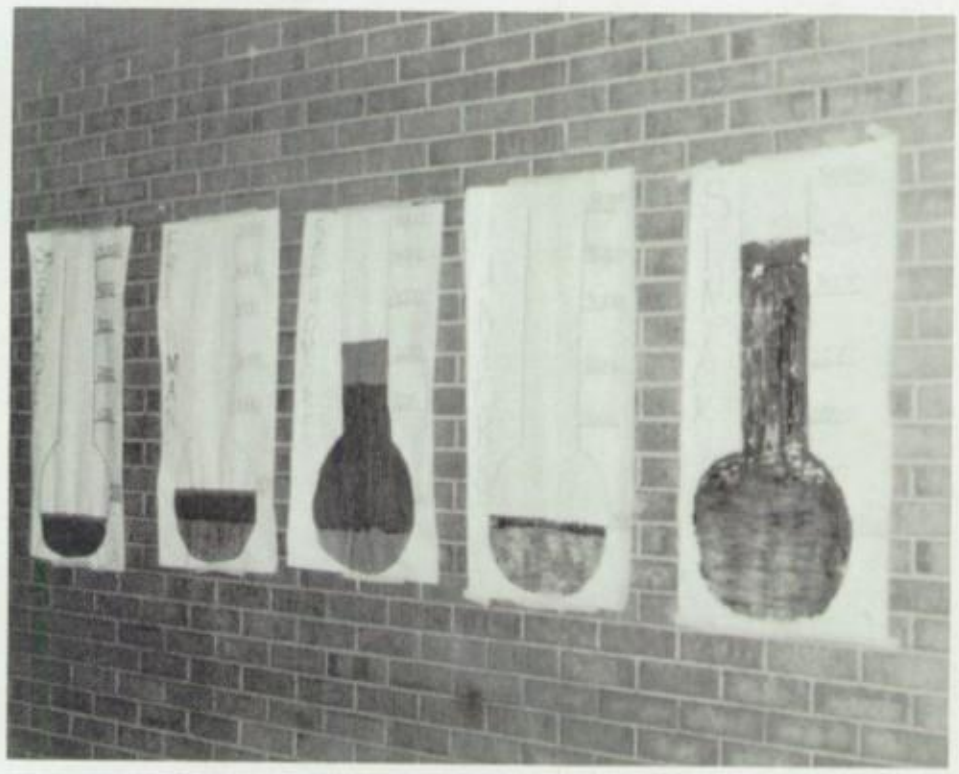
North Central evaluates Metro's qualifications.

Mrs. Graber greets NCA members.

Do I have to catalog all of these?

Does God perform MIRACLES?



Upper grades compete in the book drive.

Does God perform miracles? According to Metro Christian Academy the answer is definitely yes! This year, the magnificence of God's power became a reality through the affirmation of North Central Association Accreditation (NCA). Metro is the first unit school to receive NCA accreditation in the 89 year history of the North Central Association of Colleges.

Only 254 schools out of 1,900 schools in Oklahoma have received NCA accreditation. Metro is the first Christian school throughout North Central Association history to receive this honor.

North Central Association accreditation is based upon the school's physical plans, faculty expertise, classroom instruction skills, curriculum and relationship of the school to the community. NCA sent a team of people to inspect Metro's qualifications. In order to receive this honor, the entire student body pulled together and sacrificed its time and efforts to meet North Central Association's standards. The students and faculty members were faced with meeting the overwhelming challenge of collecting 8,000 books for our library. This challenge which once seemed to be unattainable soon became an unbelievable reality through the persevering efforts of the entire Metro body. Metro not only met the 8,000 book goal, but they miraculously collected a total of 26,000 books. Metro received North Central Association's accreditation not as an individual but through the efforts of the entire school working together as one. The strength and unity displayed throughout the entire challenge of receiving this honor undoubtedly proves that with God on your side, anything is possible!

Woody West, one of the most dynamic coaches around.

Metro Christian Academy proudly honors Woody West for his tremendous 48-year coaching career. Woody West has led the way to numerous victories, which include basketball victories as well as spiritual victories. He is an extremely devoted Christian which enables him to brighten the lives of everyone he comes in contact with. Through his consistent and disciplined coaching, he has won a total of 110 conference championships and participated in ten state meets. During his coaching career he has won a total of 499 games and was selected to be part of Oklahoma's Coaches Hall of Fame in 1968. Woody West is the epitome of the "ideal coach." He has earned the right and respect to be known as one of the greatest coaches in the world.

Our school's future lies in these young people; and the future looks bright. Not only are our kids the cutest (which goes without saying); but they are interested, excited, and enthusiastic about their efforts. Whether they play sports, pursue drama or music, produce academically, or are just all-around "neat kids;" they all have a special place here at Metro. Because, as you see, tomorrow is right before your eyes.

Chapel — A Time of Renewal

The Opening Exercises start each Chapel with a pledge to the American Flag, Christian Flag, and to the Bible.

Malinda Zachary and Camey King played Amy Grant's "I Love A Lonely Day" for Chapel.

Chapel — a special moment to reflect upon the many daily blessings which God has given us. Chapel is a time to unite together as a body in a spiritual manner, while focusing on the true reason for which Metro was founded. Each Wednesday, students are reminded of a special day set aside to pause, and meditate on God. As Americans we sometimes take for granted this very meaningful time of worship — a time to glorify God through our very precious and sacred freedom of religion. Although chapel is scheduled only one day out of the week, it enables the students to enhance their spiritual body as well as their intellectual and physical body. Chapel restores, strengthens, and uplifts the faith of the believers.

decoration contest with "Swamp Beggs".

Homecoming was a very special time for the entire student body. The MCA spirit was first made apparent through the creative displays for the homecoming wall decorating competition. All of the high school joined in to make their very own decoration the most unique and creative to win the competition for their grade. At the end of the homecoming week, the seniors won the contest with their elaborate display.

While keeping the MCA spirit alive, the tradition of selecting a homecoming queen and court was followed. Anne Holderness was selected to represent Metro as the 1984-85 Homecoming Queen and John Frohrip was selected as Mr. Patriot. The homecoming court was made up of two attendants and statesmen from the freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors. The senior representatives were Monique Bliss, Diana Perry, Rod Ferguson, and Lindy Quinten. Juniors were Kim Ogren, Suzy Wood, Paul Hayes, and Ed Snow. Sophomores included Valerie Eaves, Michelle Matheny, Cap Baxter, and Derring West. Freshmen were Shawn Ballentine, Kristi Willcox, Warren Linn, and Paul Marsh.

The homecoming ceremony was held at Skelly Stadium prior to the kickoff of the exciting homecoming game. Metro won the homecoming game against Beggs despite the rainy weather. After the game, the student body was invited to attend the homecoming mixer.

Science Fair — Expanding Our Horizons

At Metro the science fair consisted of over 200 participants. It was one of the best displays of creativity and ingenuity seen throughout the chain of individual school fairs.

The Science Fair is an immense learning experience. Although a project involves intense studying and involvement, it also requires the unique skill of projecting the information visually.

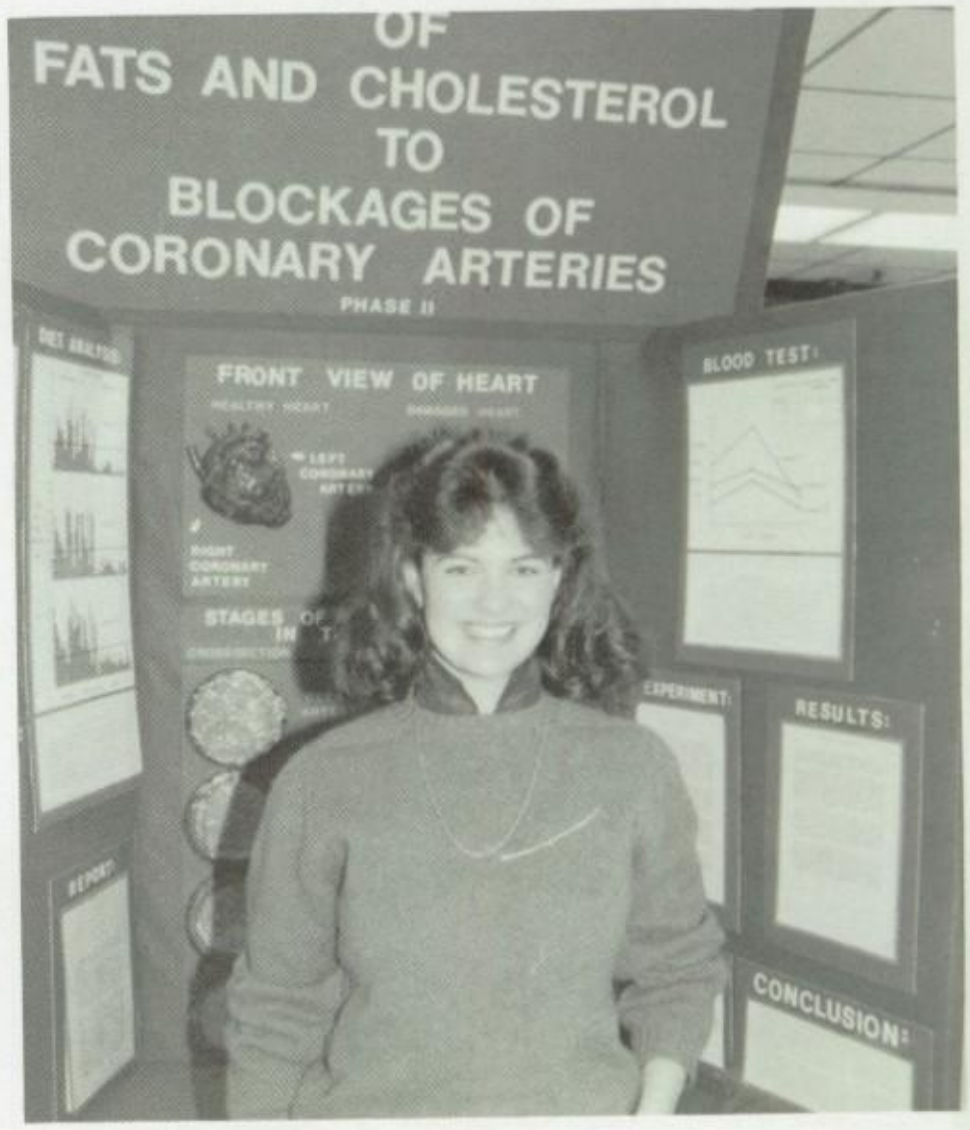
At the school fair, eight people were selected to go to the Tulsa District Science Fair. Those selected were Julie Bragg, Debra Bearden, Rebecca Clifton, Susan Gregory, Jennifer Hobson, Michelle Matheny, Kris VanAken, and Tammy VanAken. At the Tulsa District Science Fair, Metro earned superior awards throughout the entire fair. Kris VanAken representing Metro received first place in the Physical Science category at the Tulsa fair. The awards received totalled to an overwhelming number of 26. As a whole, Metro was the 2nd highest award winners in the city of Tulsa. Four of Metro's top award winners were chosen to compete in the State Science Fair. Only 25 participants were chosen from the Tulsa District Fair to compete at the State competition. Those chosen to compete at State were Julie Bragg, Michelle Matheny, Kris VanAken, and Tammy VanAken.

Also Metro sent 5 students to compete in the Junior Academy of Science. This was a division of the Science Fair, in which students orally presented a 10 to 15 minute speech over the material researched in their projects. From the competition Kurtis Fullingim and Michelle Matheny were chosen to compete at the State Science Fair in the Junior Academy of Science division.

At the State Science Fair, Metro was once again represented with high honors. Tammy VanAken placed third in the Environmental category with her project, "Can Zone Heating/Cooling Work for Forced Air?" Michelle Matheny placed FIRST in the Health and Science category with her project, "Interrelationships between Dietary Intake of Fats and Cholesterol to the Blockages of Coronary Arteries." At the State Science Fair, students from all over the state of Oklahoma competed at the State Level!

In the Junior Academy of Science division, Michelle Matheny won FIRST PLACE in the Health and Science category. The awards which Metro received were of the UPMOST SUPERIORITY!! The time and effort spent by all of the Science Fair participants was rewarded in many ways. But if it weren't for all the time and devotion spent by a dear and loving science teacher, Mrs. Hatasaki, this award and acclaim would not be possible. Each of the awards won by the students are due to the encouragement and consistent support of Mrs. Hatasaki.

Michelle Matheny shows her enthusiasm over winning first place for her science project and JAS oral presentation at the state fair.



Kurtis Fullingim receives his first place award from Lori Rose for his outstanding achievement at Metro's Science Fair.

Sharyn Gregory, Lori Rose, Tammy VanAken, and Michelle Matheny take a minute to relax after Metro's first Science Fair Awards Banquet.

Michelle Matheny, Julie Bragg, Tammy VanAken, Kris VanAken, Debra Bearden and Jennifer Hobson represented MCA with several prestigious awards.

Jennifer Exendine, Audrey Gray, Lee Raney, and Jeff Mindemine represented Metro in the Union Academic Fair.

Could Tammy VanAken's project effect your life in the future? Possibly! Tammy received third place in the State Fair along with several other awards.

Union Academic Fair

Superiority through academics has earned its place within the heart of Metro Christian Academy. On March 2, 1985, several students were chosen to participate in the Union Academic Fair. This fair was a major first step taken to further the overall education of Metro. The Union Academic Fair is made up of a select group of students chosen to represent their schools in an academic competition. Students answer questions over many subjects covered throughout their school years. The questions were designed to probe the knowledge obtained from each individual student.

The fair is made up of eighth and ninth graders chosen by a committee of teachers. The eight graders were Jennifer Exendine, Audrey Gray, Lee Raney, and Jeff Mindemine. The ninth graders chosen were Rebecca Clifton, David Herold, Debra Bearden, and Jennifer Hobson. Each of these students received a certificate of Academic Achievement. Through the concentrated effort put forth by these students, Metro achieved the level of quarter finalists.

Students Vs. Faculty

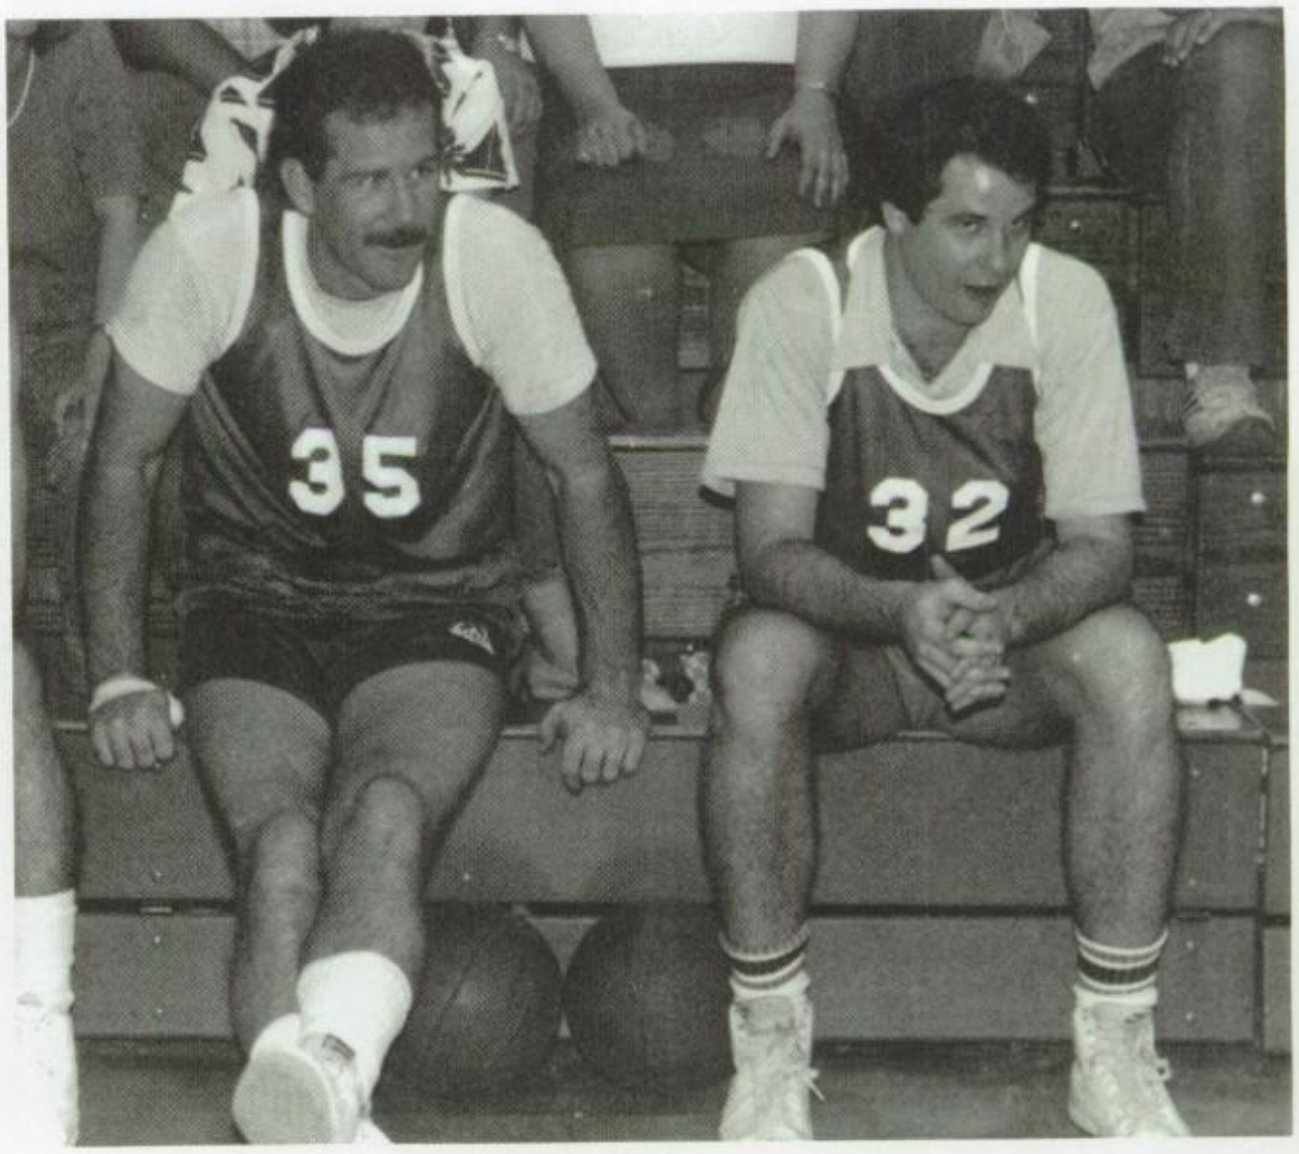
Junior guys win Class of the Year points in the cheerleading competition.

The Student/Faculty Basketball Game, arranged and sponsored by the junior class, was a chance for the high school classes to demonstrate spirit and participation and win Class of the Year points. The juniors took advantage of the event by using it for a fund raiser with the money going toward the prom.

The main event of the game was the cheerleading competition, in which guys, representing each class, performed as girl cheerleaders. Because of their participation, spirit, and of course, beauty, the juniors won the contest.

The basketball game was enjoyed by all who attended and was taken seriously only by those who happened to win. The student participants took the game as nothing but fun.

Mr. Kaprive is working up quite a sweat against the younger guys.



Coach Stephenson and Coach Johnson seem sure of the game's outcome.

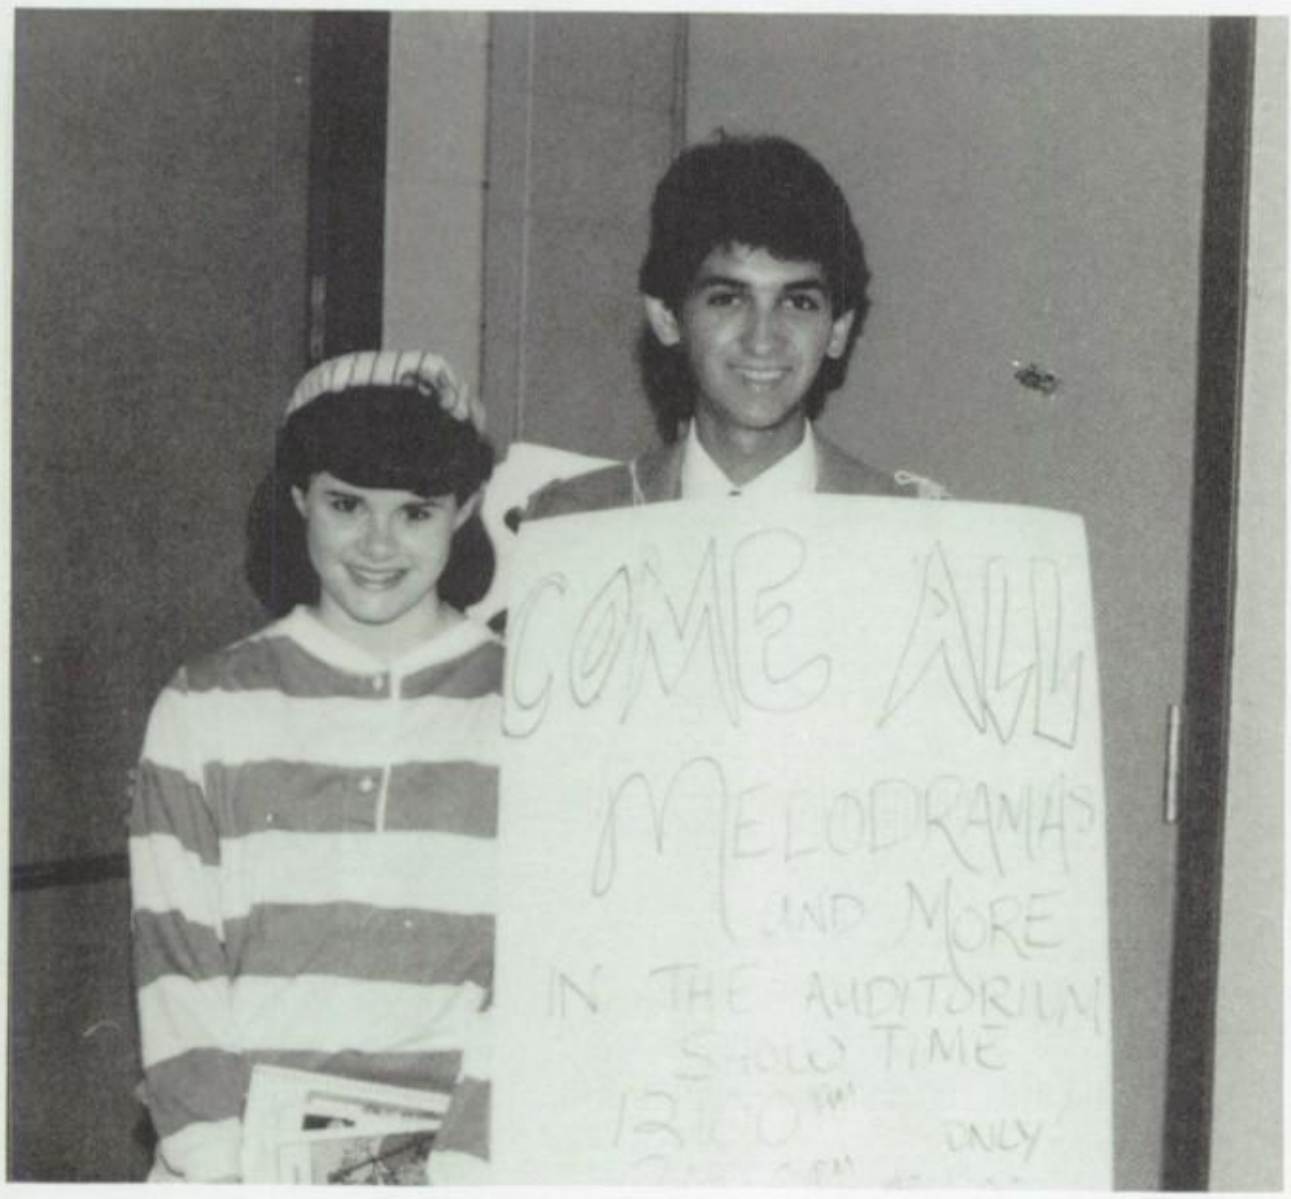
Heliana poses as "most shy girl".

Heliana Shida

Heliana Shida, who was originally from Brazil, came to Metro as a senior. Having high academics standards, she was admired by her peers. Heliana was considered to be very shy. In fact, whe won the "most shy" award this year. However, those who knew her well, especially those on the ski trip with her knew she had a fantastic sense of humor and was fun to be with.

Heliana mentioned that she would like to return to Brazil to attend college. We at Metro wish her luck in anything and everything she decides to do!



Jose advertises for drama with Beth Isaacs.

Jose Alberu

Jose Alberu came to Tulsa from Mexico. He started at Metro as a junior at the beginning of the year. Being friendly and outgoing, Jose was loved by his classmates and had many friends. The junior class pooled its members' money and used it to by a class ring for Jose since he wasn't able to get one himself.

Jose also had several accomplishments in the drama department. He played the part of Ali Hakim in Metro's presentation of the musical "Oklahoma!" as well as being a Thespian member. The Thespians elected him as next year's Public Relations Officer. Metro will be happy to have Jose here for his senior year.

Metrofest '85 started off with a bang, and burned with enthusiasm until the very end. In order to prepare for the auction, soon to become a spectacle as the evening progressed, many hard-working hours were spent perfecting each portion of the auction. At the close of the auction, Metrofest had already proved to be a success based upon the ingenuity and professionalism displayed throughout the entire evening.

Metrofest included a number of events and displays. One portion of it was sectioned into various crafts. The various crafts ranged from needlework to wall decorations.

The half price grocery store was the place to be for discount foods and a basketful of excitement. Many people rushed to Metrofest's very first grocery store to purchase food at the best price in town.

After working up an appetite in the grocery store, many people decided to visit Metrofest's very own assortment of restaurants. Metrofest was determined to feed everyone right, whether they bought their food at the grocery store or decided to sit down and enjoy some hamburgers and pizza.

To top Metrofest off, a carnival was designed to entertain and challenge all of the young at heart. the carnival provided a number of games to play, and a medical center for those who wanted to be wrapped up in bandages without experiencing the pain. Metrofest was both fun and exciting. It truly came alive in '85.

The award-winning "Voices from the High School" is performed in chapel.

The drama department has had an extremely successful year. Under the direction of Mrs. Glover, the Drama Department performed several plays throughout the year. They performed a play called "Sorry, Wrong Number" early in the year. Continuing on, they performed a play called "Voices from the High School," which they performed at regionals and won first place. This excellent accomplishment led to a successful climb to the competition at state level. At state, they presented this play and did very well. This play was performed before chapel and at the Oklahoma State Thespians Convention. This summer, they were invited to perform the play at the International Thespians Convention in Ballstate, Indiana.

The Drama Department prepared a Night of One Acts consisting of four plays: "Princess," "The Valiant," "The Final Dress Rehersal," and "Voices from the High School." During the Easter chapel, they presented a short play called "Were You There?" At the completion of their year, they performed a number of Melodramas to raise money at Metrofest.

"Oklahoma" was truly a musical which will forever touch the memories of those who saw it, participated in it, and directed it. "Oklahoma" was a full scale production which enlightened and captured the sentimental respect to a beloved state such as Oklahoma. "Oklahoma" took five weeks in the making, and was directed by Mr. Rex Wakefield. "Oklahoma" became a reality through the consistent and diligent efforts of the drama director, Mrs. Glover, choreographer, Miss McNamara, and stage director, Sherrie Pipkin. Under the direction of such dedicated people, the cast was able to rehearse and perfect each scene during the five-week period before "Opening Night."

While the entire cast was rehearsing and re-rehearsing, the band was hard at work choosing and practicing the music which would accompany "Oklahoma." Mr. West, the music director, spent many hours instructing and scrutinizing each note played that would contribute to the overall artistic enjoyment of the musical.

With the persevering efforts of a tremendous cast and skilled directors, "Oklahoma" was a success, overbounding with warmth and good humor.

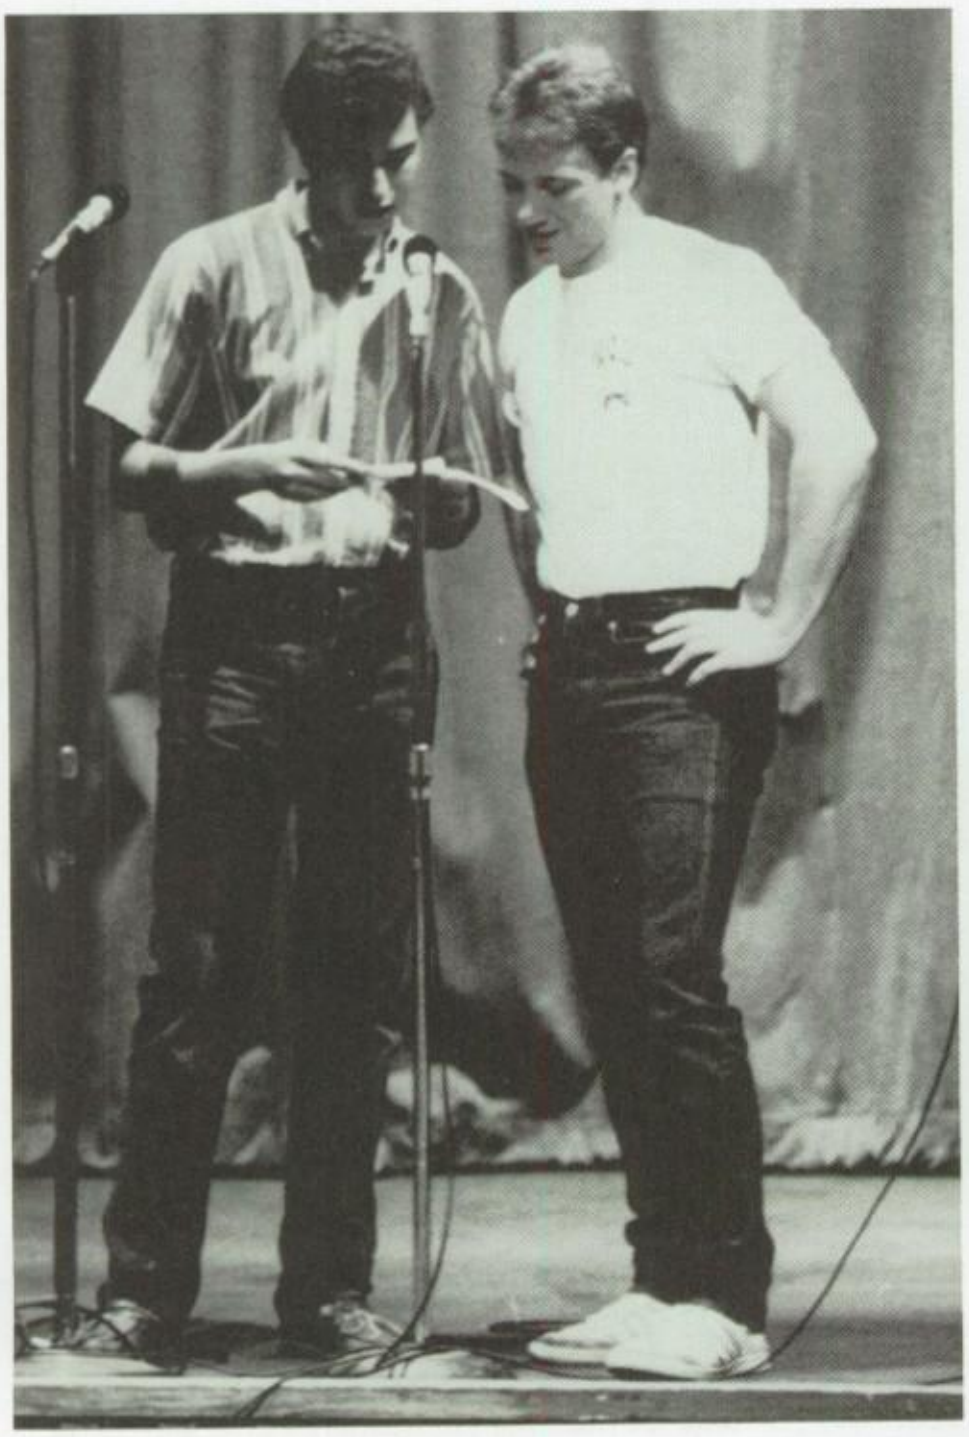
The final chance to earn Class of the Year points was in the Junior Olympics. All of the high school students gathered together in the gym to watch their classmates participate in games such as the egg toss, the orange pass, and the tug-of-war. The activities were fun as well as entertaining to observe. This was not only a chance for each class to display its possession of some unusual skills, but also an opportunity to show class spirit. However, the difference between classes varied by a mere one to two points.

Senior Farewell



John Spillyards and John Frohrip sing the fifty Best Ways To Break the RULES!

During the Senior Farewell Assembly, the seniors relfected upon past memories of their time spent at MCA. The assembly was filled with both laughs and enthusiasm over the awkward situations which occurred during the senior's year at Metro. The seniors were able to recreate the reality of the fond memories that occurred at Metro, mixed with some unpleasant ones also.

At the close of the assembly, a few of the seniors sang a sentimental song, which will forever express the feelings and emotions of those who belonged to the "Class of '85." Tena Walker and Randy Findley sang "Friends are Friends Forever." This song touched the hearts and emotions of everyone within the entire auditorium, for it is this song which expresses the eternity of the friendships that have been made and so very dearly treasured.

Even though the seniors are leaving, the friendships and memories that were made will forever linger within the hearts of those who were a part of the awesome SENIOR CLASS OF 1985.

Prom Night '85

Prom Night is the night all the juniors and seniors have always dreamed about. For most juniors, it was an exciting new experience. However, for seniors, May fourth marked the last school activity and the realization that the beginning of the rest of their lives was just around the corner.

The evening began with hors d'oeuvers at the Wood's house. Most people were more concerned with their appearance for pictures.

Next, it was on to the Excelsior Hotel. Some arrived in limousines, some in dad's car, and some in their own. The banquet was the first big chance for all to see and be seen. Everyone looked incredible! They were served a delicious steak dinner and afterwards settled back to listen to Senior Prophecies. These were predictions made by the juniors as to what the seniors would be doing in ten years.

Later, the floor was cleared for the dance. This was a fun time for all to hear and dance to favorite songs which would bring back memories in years to come.

The prom was followed by organized parties for those who were still awake. These included movies, food, and more dancing. By the next morning, sleep was on everyone's minds.

When looking back, the juniors and seniors will have special memories of this night. Certainly, all will remember that the Lord did lift us Up Where We Belong.

Graduation 1985

Throughout our lives we are consistently setting goals which we spend our lifetime striving to achieve. The senior class of 1985 has attained one of these lifetime goals — a goal which will forever unlock the memories of their minds. Graduating from high school symbolizes the fulfillment of twelve years of schooling, filled with excitement, tears, and friendships which will last FOREVER!
